Aunt Fama, I always had so much fun with you. I will miss your laughter and your sweet nature. The sun is setting right now here in Arizona and I can see you off in the distance strolling down a lovely country lane with my dad and Aunt Zelda. You're laughing with them right now, enjoying yourself, delighted to be in paradise. You twirl around once, twice, and then begin dancing as you make your way home from a visit with our Lord. You're excited because tomorrow you will see Dorothy and your brothers and your mom and dad. Tomorrow will be another perfect day in Heaven. I will always love you, Cindy
