Mom, you were and always will be my light at the end of the tunnel. I am so heart broken I can't even begin to express. You were always there to pick me up when i fall and you would go above and beyond, even by a mother's standards. As I sit here writing and crying, I am cherishing all the amazing memories we shared through my 38 years. I love you SO much but I don't want you to worry, as I am going to make you even more proud of me than you already are. I know you are up there smiling down on all of us, as you're sitting there with Grandma and Grandpa probably enjoying a cup of coffee. I am going to continue celebrating you and the kind, warm and just simply wonderful woman you are. Rest in heaven my sweet Angel. I love you forever and always. Your son, Justin

Cheryl my beautiful friend. My heart is so shattered as it is overflowing with memories which revolve around you. We sure had some crazy fun times from Cornies to Double time to everywhere in between. You were small but mighty and always felt you had to protect me. I always loved that about you. You then stood by me when I got married. I always knew you were my true friend. We never had one disagreement ever in the 30 plus years we knew each other. There will never be another you. I remember hours and hours of the conversations we would have. You were always there for me and even when we went long periods of time without seeing each other I always knew it. You stood right by me at my wedding. I will never ever forgot you. You were the kindest sweetest person. I am so sorry to Mike and Justin and to your entire family. I never imagined when you came to my moms services that you would be with her soon in heaven. I hope the two of you are sharing one of her speciality cocktails. I now have another guardian angel. I will miss you forever and ever. I love you my friend.

I cannot express how sad I am over such a huge loss. Cheryl was friends with our family for 30+ years. She was actually in my sisters wedding. Our hearts are broken. Always so sweet, so kind and just simply caring. She attended my moms funeral three weeks ago and just had a way to say the right thing to let me know our family would be ok. I know heaven became more beautiful three weeks ago and without a doubt it became even more beautiful when Cheryl entered our Fathers kingdom. Cheryl, you were and always will be loved by so many.
